

Legacy Finding Aid for Manuscript and Photograph Collections

801 K Street NW
Washington, D.C. 20001

What are Finding Aids?

Finding aids are narrative guides to archival collections created by the repository to describe the contents of the material. They often provide much more detailed information than can be found in individual catalog records. Contents of finding aids often include short biographies or histories, processing notes, information about the size, scope, and material types included in the collection, guidance on how to navigate the collection, and an index to box and folder contents.

What are Legacy Finding Aids?

The following document is a legacy finding aid – a guide which has not been updated recently. Information may be outdated, such as the Historical Society’s contact information or exact box numbers for contents’ location within the collection. Legacy finding aids are a product of their times; language and terms may not reflect the Historical Society’s commitment to culturally sensitive and anti-racist language. This guide is provided in “as is” condition for immediate use by the public. This file will be replaced with an updated version when available.

Description Control: Description based on DACS; prepared by Anne McDonough and Walter Albano, July 19, 2016.

Administrative/Biographical History: Founded as the Washington Home for Incurables by Mrs. Charles Hill in 1888, the organization was incorporated the following year. The home was organized to provide “care of indigent incurable persons of both sexes for whom no other provision exists.” Many women prominent in Washington society have contributed funds and served as President of the Board of Managers. Over the years the Home increased its clientele and the services offered to them. By 1975 the name had been changed to the Washington Home.

With the addition of hospice care the name was changed further in 1978 to Washington Home and Community Hospices. The Home opened in a house on Meridian Place, N.W., in Mount Pleasant, with two patients; four years later the Home moved into a 50-room brick building on the northwest corner of the property known as Dumbarton Oaks, in Georgetown. In 1924 the Home moved into a new building on Upton Street, N.W., on Wisconsin Avenue. This building was demolished and a new one built and occupied in 1988. Home hospice care began in 1986; the Home opened a second hospice facility in Beltsville, Maryland, in 2001. Presidents, First Ladies, and foreign dignitaries have paid visits and supported activities in the Home, notably Barbara Bush and Diana, Princess of Wales. For several years in the 1980s and 1990s an exhibit of interior decoration called "Entertaining People" raised funds for the Home.

Scope and Content: The records include founding documents, minutes of meetings, annual reports, publications, clippings, photographs, and photographic slides and negatives. This material covers governance and special events and documents facilities, staff, and patients.
